

Creative Research and Evaluation for the Third Sector

You are invited to take part in this one-day event at Bluecoat Liverpool, led by members of the Centre for Social Responsibility at Edge
Hill University.

June 9th 2026

10am to 4pm

Bluecoat Liverpool

School Lane, Liverpool, Merseyside L1 3BX

We know that research can often feel like something that others do, and difficult to get involved with, but this need not be the case. The work of the third sector is very valuable to the research community.

This event provides introductory training to creative methods of research and evaluation. It is aimed at third sector organisations, so you will have chance to meet others and share your experiences.

We are also keen to hear from attendees what further training and support would be useful. This will inform a bid for funding to continue this work.

The event will be taking place at, and hosted by, Bluecoat Liverpool and lunch will be provided.

Please register here!

For further information contact: CSR@edgehill.ac.uk